PRICE, THREE CENTS

MAIN LINE LEAGUE IN FIRST MEETING

Stricter Eligibility Rules
Adopted for 1929
Season

COMPOSED OF 6 TEAMS

The Main Line League, the baseball circuit that has flourished for many years in these parts, still retains its original name, but its membership is drawn less and less from the Main Line.

At an organization meeting of the league held Monday night at the home of Charles Hardeen, Moreno road, Narberth, representatives from the following clubs were present: Narberth, Berwyn, Oakmont, Newtown Square, Brookline and Manoa. Walter Hanly, of Paoli, was elected president for the 1929 season, and Charles Hardeen, of Narberth, was selected as secretary and treasurer.

New rulings regarding eligibility of players were drawn up, this point always having been a bone of contention. One new rule proposed by Manager Gene Davis, of the Narberth Club, will limit the number of eligible players on a club to 20 at one time. If a club desires to add some players it must have their names presented on the list 10 days before they are eligible to play. This rule it is hoped will prevent the padding-up of a team for certain games above its normal strength.

Another eligibility rule which will be considered at the next meeting of the league officials on April 22 would prohibit the use of new men on a team after three-quarters of the season has been played. This would eliminate the loading-up of a team in the last dash for the flag. It was decided that forfeits of $35 per team per game will be required this season. Philadelphia Association umpires, two for each game, will be used in all league games this year.

In consideration of its excellent grounds Narberth will play at home every Saturday with the exception of one game away with Berwyn. It is expected that the season will open May 18.

Narberth was represented at the meeting by Manager Davis and Secretary and Treasurer Charles Hardeen.

Shoots Foster Son, Blames Fortune Teller

Jealousy over his wife, thought to have been implanted in his mind by a fortune teller, led Ernest Purring, Sr., a carpenter, living at 535 Gordon avenue, Narberth, Tuesday, to shoot a man who had been as a son to him for more than 20 years.

His victim, Alexander McCausland, also a carpenter, now living in Philadelphia, was taken to Bryn Mawr Hospital with four bullets in his body. His condition on Wednesday was reported as favorable, though still serious.

"That man stole my wife's affections," Purring told the Lower Merion police at Ardmore. "A fortune teller I have been going to told me twice my wife was being stolen from me and told me this man was responsible."

But McCausland, facing death, denied this.

"The Purrrings practically brought me up," he said. "I looked upon him as a father. There is absolutely nothing to what he says."

Judge Knight at a hearing in Norristown Wednesday afternoon appointed a lunacy commission to examine the assailant.

Yes, We Have No

Canned Onions

Canned onions are not well thought of in Narberth, or at least a certain brand, "Regina." And it is just as well. Such onions besides leaving a devastating breath would have left other and more serious effects. In fine, they are said to be poisonous.

It seems the Narberth Board of Health received a warning from the State Board of Health that such onions were not fit for consumption by humans and requested that all stores and eating establishments in the town be canvassed and if any were found that they be destroyed. A search failed to disclose any "Regina" canned onions used in the borough.

Girls to Sing

"Florinda" or "The Rose and the Pearl," will be sung by the Girls' Glee Club of the Narberth School under the direction of Miss Fricke, on Saturday evening, April 13, at 8.15, in the assembly room of the school. Prior to the concert a business meeting of the Mothers' Council will be held in the school library at 7.30 o'clock. This meeting will be the regular monthly meeting of the council, which has been changed to this date in order to conform to the date set for the glee club concert.

Firemen Out Twice

The Narberth Fire Company saw action twice on Tuesday, both alarms being for the same place at different times. At 10 A. M. the firemen were called to 210 Woodbine avenue, the residence of John H. Gold, for a blaze in the floor of a porch shed. It is believed that the fire was caused by a gasoline torch in soldering pipe joints. At 1.45 P. M. they were called again to the same place; the fire either having been started anew or else smoldered. The damage was estimated at $200.

Burglar Who Shot Officer Still at Large; Victim on Way to Recovery At Hospital

Despite one of the most determined man-hunts in Lower Merion township for some time, the burglar who shot policeman Hugh Waters, about 30, in Merion early Tuesday, is still at liberty.

Waters is in Bryn Mawr Hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen and although his condition is serious, physicians say he will recover, barring complications.

Police resorted to virtually every known method in their effort to apprehend the robber, even obtaining a police dog to trace him from the scene of the shooting, Beacon lane and Wynnewood road, a short distance from St. Charles Borromeo Seminary, Overbrook.

A cap dropped by the gunman as he fled was used to give the scent to the dog, borrowed by police from Herman Kunze, of Roxborough. The animal tracked the fugitive through Merion and Overbrook, but finally lost the trail on a creek on the grounds of the seminary.

Description of the thief, who Waters said was about five feet tall, slender, poorly dressed and with rat-like features, has been broadcast to all police departments in this section of the State.

The burglar turned and fired on Waters after the policeman had emptied his gun in the air in an attempt to frighten the man into submitting to arrest. Waters was patrolling Beacon lane when he saw the man acting in a suspicious manner and carrying a bundle under his arm.

PLAYERS PRESENT 'THE BRAT' TONIGHT

Mrs. James L. Eustace, Jr.,
Will Play Leading Role
at Belmont Mansion.

"The Brat," a comedy in three acts, by Maud Epton, will be presented by the Main Line Repertory Theater at Belmont Mansion, Fairmount Park, tonight and tomorrow night.

Mrs. James L. Eustace, Jr., formerly with the Plateau Players, will play the leading role. Others in the cast include Miss Anabel Ffoulkes, of Bryn Mawr; Miss Dorothy Loder, of Haverford; Miss Peggy Bean and Miss Margaretta Gibbons, of Cynwyd; Miss Eugenie Pleasanton and Miss Christine Shilard-Smith, of Philadelphia.

Among the male members of the cast are Staats Cotsworth, of Wayne; Robert B. Ely, 3d, of Merion; Hamilton D. Sheppard, of Cynwyd, and Ashton McDonnell, also of Merion.

Miss Elizabeth F. McCloy, assisted by William McCahan and Lewis Easby in charge of the staging of the production. C. Eugene Klebe has painted the backdrop and was also the artist for the poster which advertises the bill.

Interesting Concert

April 18, at Gladwyne

A group of well-known instrumentalists and vocalists will present a concert at St. Joseph's P. E. Parish House in Gladwyne, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. U. Clarke Smith, organist and choirmaster at the Church of the Redeemer, Bryn Mawr, will be accompanist and has arranged a vocal program with the following artists: Dorothy Osborne Shafer, soprano; Kathryn B. Sheppard, alto; Charles C. DeBeust, basso, and Ernest J. Freas, baritone.

Miss Margaet M. Robinson, harpist, Cynwyd, who recently returned from studying abroad, will play several numbers. She has been heard in Philadelphia and vicinity many times.

George R. Miller, of radio fame, will sing some of the songs which have brought him much praise. Thomas Baker, musical instructor of this county, will play several numbers on the clarinet and the University Quartet will be heard. The latter organization consists of Jack Ledger, F. Foot, J. Breckenridge and E. McCance. Kenneth Heim, leader of the Lehigh University Glee Club and organist at St. Joseph's, has arranged the program.

BOYS BUSY FLYING KITES FOR CONTEST

Youngsters Also Preparing Hobby Exhibits for Big Week.

Boys in Main Line communities already are practicing kite flying in anticipation of that part of the program for Boy Week, one of the many activities which the Main Line Boy Council will encourage during the period from April 27 to May 4 inclusive.

The hobby contest under the chairmanship of Mr. C. B. Penny-packer, 110 Ardmore avenue, Ardmore, is also keeping the boys busy. The Council hopes there will be many hobbies exhibited in the local committees and suggests that among other things the boys can make their own kites, exhibit them in the hobby contest and later fly them in the kite flying contest, thereby possibly winning two prizes almost, you might say, at one time. There are a lot of prizes offered so that boys stand a splendid chance of winning something. Six prizes of $5 and eight prizes of $2.50 have been provided for the best hobbies exhibited.

Mr. Penny-packer is anxious to have a splendid exhibition of hobbies of the boys and asks the cooperation of parents and the boys.

Mancill Looms as Third

Candidate for L. M. Post

Rumors persisting this week that a third candidate for James Stretch's Lower Merion Commission post from the General Wayne election district would be chosen, culminated Wednesday morning in a report published in a Philadelphia paper. It stated that Frank H. Mancill, prominent builder and Philadelphia attorney, who resides on Penarth road, Cynwyd, may get the appointment.

Senior Plays Tonight

The senior class of the Lower Merion Senior High School is giving its annual program of one-act plays for the benefit of some worthy charity this evening at 8 o'clock in the senior high auditorium, Ardmore.

The program will consist of three one-act plays, "Penny a Flower," by K. Kester; "The Forfeit," by T. B. Rogers, and "Grandma Pulls the Strings," by E. Deland and D. Carb.

Fred Bates, Betty Hubbell, John Fitch, Lovett Jackson, Howard Sheldon, Marjorie Hyde, Beatrice Clifford, Mary Phillips and Anna Donnelly have important parts in the various plays.

LIBRARY TRUSTEES HONOR MRS. WOOD

Resolution Unanimously Adopted in Appreciation of Her Services

TELL LIBRARY'S STORY

At a meeting of the trustees of the Narberth Community Library Association on Tuesday a resolution was unanimously adopted expressing appreciation of Mrs. Elizabeth K. Wood's work in connection with the library.

The librarian's report indicated that circulation figures were well ahead of last year and that all other parts of the library's work were running smoothly.

The resolution reads as follows:

WHEREAS, The Narberth Community Library owes its origin largely to the vision of MRS. ELIZABETH K. WOOD, who has acted as the volunteer librarian, supervising the work of a group of volunteer assistants for many years, and

WHEREAS, This library has now grown in magnitude and usefulness beyond the reasonable limits to be expected of volunteer workers and has been granted support from public funds as permitted by the laws of the State and

WHEREAS, The trustees of the Narberth Community Library Association desire to express to Mrs. Wood their deep appreciation of the time and energy expended by her on the work of the library.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the trustees of the association do hereby express publicly the deep indebtedness of the association and of the citizens of the Borough of Narberth to MRS. ELIZABETH K. WOOD and do hereby make open acknowledgment of their appreciation.

ROBERT E. KEIGHTON,
President.
(Signed) MAY T. DREW,
Secretary.

March 12, 1929.

The story of the Narberth Community Library is a story of the vision, enthusiasm, tireless work and judicious leadership of Mrs. Wood. It is a story, likewise, of an unusually broad-minded community which has given the project its generous support in many ways, including eight years of volunteer work as assistant librarians on the part of interested women of the community.

Eight years ago, on January 31, 1921, the "library" opened its doors. They opened into the bungalow home of Mrs. Wood on one of whose window ledges were arranged 18 books. It became known as the "Window Sill Library." The books were loaned at 10 cents a week. As it grew older and stronger it moved into larger quarters, supplied by public-spirited citizens of the borough, until two years ago the Narberth Community Library became housed in a home of its

To Give Entertainment

An entertainment will be given by the young people of the Baptist Church of the Evangel on Friday, April 19, at 8 o'clock. It will consist of vocal numbers, a presentation of the "Seven Ages of Man" and two scenes from "A School for Scandal." The entertainment is under the direction of Mrs. John Gilbert and Mrs. Harry Van Dyke. Tickets may be obtained from the young people.

ORCHESTRA PLAYS ENTIRE SYMPHONY

Main Line Musicians in Third Concert of Current Season.

LOCAL WOMEN SOLOIST

With a well-chosen program, a large audience and uniformly fine playing, the Main Line Orchestra gave the most successful concert in their history Tuesday evening at the Junior High School building, Ardmore. Adolph Vogel conducted.

An innovation was the playing of a complete symphony, Haydn's Second. This was Mr. Vogel's first attempt to carry his players beyond excerpts or complete movements. The result was a performance of professional standard—pleasing in tone, accurate in attack and consistent in tempo.

Two other numbers were played in addition to the symphony. The concert opened with Gluck's Petite Suite de Ballet, and closed with Beethoven's "Egmont" Overture. The entire group of numbers, skillfully selected to fall within the scope of a 50-piece orchestra, was played in nearly flawless style.

The soloists were selected from the orchestra itself. They were Mrs. S. B. Coggeshall, of Ardmore, and Mrs. J. R. Mickle, of Cynwyd, both members of the first violin choir. Their first appearance was in the Bach double concerto for two violins, with an accompaniment by the stringed part of the orchestra. The number was marked by a pleasing tone in the solo instruments and a well-balanced accompaniment.

In the second part of the program the two solos rendered a group of three short numbers for two violins by Godard, with piano accompaniment by Miss Mary C.

All Out for Practice

The first practice of the Narberth baseball club will be held on Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Community playground. All players from Narberth and the surrounding territory who are interested in trying out for the team are cordially invited to be present. It is hoped to select this year's team almost exclusively from local material.

Closing Dates for Better Homes Contests Drawing Near—Many Entries Received

As the date for Better Homes Week in Narberth, April 21 to 27, draws near the chairman of the various contests and competitions, and also those in charge of exhibits, pass along the following reminders:

Adults who are entering plans of Living Room as outlined by Victor D. Abel, chairman, 18 Narberth Park, should have them in his hands not later than April 17.

The Better Babies contest will be held on Monday, April 22, at Elm Hall. There will be two classes: Fancy dress for children up to four years, at 2 P. M.; and health contest for children up to two years, at 3 P. M.

There is no registration fee. Pamphlets on cooking, children's diseases, eating and reducing are available for all spectators and A B C books for the children. It is hoped that many grown-ups and children will attend. Further information will be gladly given by Mrs. Horace McConnell, chairman.

Only one more week is left to enter your kitchen in the Better Homes Week contest. Think how proud you would be if you were awarded the prize of $10 and your kitchen named the best in Narberth. The contest is getting pretty lively and a number of very interesting kitchens have already been inspected. Maybe you think your kitchen is not a model one, but when you consider that there are 100 points to be considered in the judgment it may be that you have a chance for a high score.

Enter your kitchen at once, as April 20 is the closing date. Call C. H. Woolmington, 23 Narbrook Park, Narberth 4173-J.

School exhibit: Narberth school children are busy putting the finishing touches to their exhibits for the Better Homes in America Week.

Friday afternoon, April 26, in Elm Hall, on operetta and dress review will be given by the Narberth public school children. The dresses displayed will be worn by their originators.

Any Narberth children who attend schools other than the Narberth public schools and who wish to enter articles in the school exhibit may call Mrs. R. G. Augst, 406 Dudley avenue, Narberth 3928-M, before Wednesday, April 17. Prizes will be awarded on Saturday, April 27.

SCHEDULE CHANGE AT END OF MONTH

Winter Collection and Service to Merchants Ends on April 26th

BRIDGE TO BE LIGHTED

On April 26 the winter collection schedule for ashes and rubbish will come to a close. The schedule for the summer months will be the same as last year—one collection a month, the first week of the month on the regular days.

The special collection of rubbish twice a week from the business section will also be discontinued on April 26. This service for the merchants was instituted last year chiefly because of conditions in violation of health and fire regulations. It is being discontinued because of complaints from taxpayers and from the township dump.

A resolution offered by the Water, Light and Health Committee providing for the erection of two standard lights on the Narberth avenue bridge was adopted. These will provide adequate light for the first time on the footpath and will no doubt be welcomed by South Siders.

Building is quiet in the borough to judge from the number of permits issued—six—during March. Fees to the amount of $29 were collected thereupon and the alterations, chiefly garages and new roofs, will approximate $3850 in value. A letter was read from the Board of Adjustment in connection with the report of the building committee stating that the decision of George B. Supple's as building inspector in not granting a permit to J. Baird Caldwell for the erection of a gasoline filling station at 844 Montgomery pike had been upheld. Rumor has it that Mr. Caldwell will take his case to the Court of Common Pleas at Norristown.

The report of the Highway and Sewer Committee indicates that some action may take place on the paving of Rockland avenue and Grove place. The status of the Wynnewood court paving situation is described in the complete report which follows:

"In reference to the paving petition from residents of Wynnewood Court, which was referred to this committee at the last meeting: We sent the petition to the borough solicitor for his verification of the signatures and approval of its legality. He referred it back to us with the opinion that it was faulty in that it did not provide for the payment by the abutting property owners of a two-foot gutter strip as had been done by previous petitioners under the street improvement bond issue.

"We, therefore, returned the petition with a copy of the solicitor's opinion to Mr. Frank X. Purcell, of Wynnewood Court, and provided him with a new copy of a petition containing the gutter clause. Mr. Purcell has had all the original petitioners sign the new petition and has returned it to us. We have again submitted it to the solicitor for verification and with the request that he let us have his opinion in time for the May committee meeting of Council, at which time we hope to be able to report a recommendation in favor of proceeding with the paving of Wynnewood Court during this coming season.

Jail and Fines Given Rokeby Club Employees

Jail terms and fines were meted out to three of the seven defendants in the Rokeby Kennel Club liquor case by Judge Corson at Norristown on Monday. The men sentenced are:

Charles McClellan, $500 fine and four months in the county jail.
John F. Miller, $500 fine, costs and five months in the county jail.
These two were employees in the dogless and kennelless clubhouse, near Narberth.
Richard Hannigan, $750 fine, costs and one year and six months in the county jail. Hannigan, Judge Corson stated, was in his opinion one of the proprietors of the club.

Attorney Henry I. Fox made a plea for leniency for the defendants on the ground that violators of an "unenforceable law" are not criminals. Assistant District Attorney Stewart Nase urged that Philadelphians should be taught that Montgomery county is not a good place in which to violate the law.

Soph Track Squad Trims Junior High

The Lower Merion Senior High School sophomore track squad gave the Junior High team a sound drubbing last Friday afternoon on the high school field, 65 to 33. Herbert Young was the high scorer for the Junior High School with 10 1-2 points. He won the 100 and 50-yard dashes with ease and ran anchor man in the relay to cut his opponent's lead from 30 yards to five. David Ridge, of the Junior High team, was defeated by John Pennypacker, of the sophomores, in the pole vault, when he failed to clear at nine feet. Russell Wood tied with Bob Smith for first place in the high jump. In all other events the sophomores showed marked superiority.

April Heat Records

Smashed in Week-end

On three successive days, April 6, 7 and 8, Main Line heat records were smashed by summer temperatures a month or more ahead of schedule. Saturday's high mark of 85 degrees was 21 above normal, Sunday's record of 89 was 26 above the average for that date, with Monday's temperature of 88, also 26 degrees higher than normal. According to Charles Decker, Narberth, this section's weatherman, the total excess in temperatures above normal since April 1 has been 107 degrees.

The highest temperature in the United States on Sunday was 94 degrees, recorded at Washington, D. C. The previous high temperature for the first week in April was 78, in 1909.

Delightful Comedy

Pleasant at Walnut

"Skidding," the smashing comedy hit at the Walnut, is one of those plays which one delights in taking father, mother, wife, sister, daughter or sweetheart, to see, for they are insured beforehand there is not a line, throughout the whole dialogue, nor a situation which would bring a blush to the cheek of the most unsophisticated. It is positively the cleanest written comedy produced throughout the whole season, which is no doubt one of the factors accounting for its run of almost one solid year in New York, in a season wherein plays of sex problems or filled with profanity, were produced aplenty.

It is a comedy of American life in the mid-West as natural as nature itself almost, dealing with things which we see in everyday life and the people we meet. It has its family squabbles of a comedy order, which greatly embarrass and disturb the peace of mind of the head of the house who is busy seeking the re-nomination for Judge of the District Court, and who leaves everything to his good wife to straighten out until she too becomes tired of the job, and takes a much-needed rest. It has a delightful love story throughout and is enlivened by a dialogue brimful of pungent wit and humor. In truth, there is not a dull moment during the action of the play, and it is interpreted by an excellent company. What more could one ask for?

Narway Wins

Narway Baseball Club won its second game of the season when it nosed out the Burgess Collegians in the tenth inning. Nordblum's double in the latter part of the ninth inning scored Ross and the two teams entered the tenth session dead-locked. The Collegians failed to make use of their extra period and Chain retired the side in one-two-three order. For Narway, however, with one down, pitcher Chain crashed a double and crossed the plate on O'Keefe's single for the winning tally. The outstanding feature of the game was McKelvy's batting and playing. Chain starred for Narway by virtue of his pitching.

Collegians . . . 2 0 1 0 1 1 0 0 0 0—5
Narway . . . 0 3 1 0 0 0 0 1 1—6

The FIRESIDE

By E. E. E.

Mrs. Albert C. Miller will entertain this afternoon at tea in honor of her daughter, Miss Kathryn Jane Miller. The guests will include the girls of the eighth grade, Kathryn Jane's class, their mothers and her teachers. Mrs. Charles Bartlett and Miss Ida Monroe will pour.

Mr. and Mrs. John Albrecht and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Albrecht spent last week-end in New York. The latter moved here recently from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bartlett, of Merion avenue, gave a surprise bridge party Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Bartlett's mother, Mrs. Edward Leary. The guests were Mr. Edward Leary, Mr. and Mrs. I. McHose, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Rudolph, Mr. and Mrs. E. Keith Monnington, Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Burrell.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Morton and son Byron, of Honeybrook, Pa., formerly of Iona avenue and Meeting House lane, visited Mr. and Mrs. George Henry, 329 Meeting House lane, last week-end.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brinton, 127 Merion avenue, is convalescing at her home from her recent illness which has kept her confined to her home for many weeks.

Miss Adele Wyeth, of Winchester road, Merion, whose engagement to Mr. J. Folwell Scull, Jr., was recently announced, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon and bridge party to be given April 20 by Miss Esther Sherman, of Levering Mill road, Cynwyd, and a theater party to be given by Miss Josephine Bornet, also of Cynwyd, on April 27.

Mrs. George Whitfield Butts, of Lantwyn lane, has returned from two weeks' stay in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Devereaux, 211 Lantwyn lane, were in Atlantic City last week-end.

Miss Betty Hartley, Haverford avenue, will be hostess to the members of her club this evening.

Invitations have been issued by Miss Dorothy Ferreira, of Cynwyd, for a bridge party to be given at her home next Saturday afternoon.

Members of the Tau Sigma Psi Sorority were entertained at bridge on Saturday by Miss Florence Wilson, 9 Windsor avenue. Among those present were the Misses Mildred Lunch, Martha Sacriste, Dorothy Colthes, Edith Sulger, Roberta Swope, of Glenolden; Jean Gilmer, Brookline; Lillian Brines, Beechwood Park; Hester Kinsey, South Ardmore; Amelia Bardem, Fort Washington; Wanda Longacre, Brookline, and Mrs. Raymond Maxwell, of the Baird Apartments, Narberth.

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Moore, of Meeting House lane, entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Breuckman, Jr., of West Philadelphia, last week-end. The two couples motored to Conawingo on Sunday.

Miss Kitty Timm, of North Narberth avenue, entertained last Saturday evening in honor of Mr. Roger I. Woglum, of Newark, N. J. The guests were the Misses Kathryn, Peggy and Adele Aungst, Catherine Patton and Agnes Downs; John and Richard Timm, John Havelick, Edward Speakman and Jordan Gaul. Mr. Woglum was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Aungst, of Dudley avenue.

On Saturday afternoon Miss Catherine Gerhart, of Cynwyd, entertained at bridge, her guests being the Misses Betty and Ruth Lee Cook, Molly Irish, Virginia Alexander, Patience and Helga Wohler, Louise Boldenweck, Margaret Nelson, Miriam LaWall, Isabelle Fretz, Sara Jones, Jane Town, Harriet Elmore, Marjorie Alice Bell, Mildred Evans, Dorothy Woodbury, June Mitchell, Louise Smith, Florence Mead, Betty Hoff, Julia Moore, Dorothy Gimber, Peggy Duncan, Elizabeth Clifford, Frances Parvin, Betty Hodgins, Louise Cross, Marion Tipton, Jean Carlyle, Elizabeth Emerson, Janet Hayes, Virginia Means, Helen Alcorn and Ella Timberlake.

Mr. Frederic K. Crookes, of 313 Conway avenue, and Mr. Robert W. Ford, of Camden, returned Wednesday from a motor trip to Cleveland, O. Invitations have been issued by Miss Elizabeth Goldsmith for a bridge party to be given at her home on Montgomery avenue Saturday afternoon, April 20.

Mrs. Stanley F. Haigh, North Narberth avenue, entertained at bridge Tuesday afternoon in honor of her mother, Mrs. Elmer E. Abbott, of Boston, Mass., who is visiting here. Mrs. Haigh and her mother are spending this week-end in Washington.

Mr. Lloyd B. Edgerton, of 107 Chestnut avenue, is on a business trip to Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Isaac McHose, 411 Dudley avenue, entertained Wednesday evening at bridge when her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Rudolph, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Monnington, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bartlett.

Mrs. Frank Leins, Meeting House lane, entertained at a small bridge party Wednesday evening at her home.

The guests included Jean Cousins, Louise Becker, Eleanor McCloy, Eleanor Patricia and Catherine Cabrey, Mary Elizabeth and Stella Creamer, Margaret Duffy, Betty Grace, Julia Hess, Peggy McDermott, Elinor Jones. The prize for the egg hunt was won by Betty Grace. Stella Creamer won the prize for the blindfolded egg and basket game. The prize for the egg and spoon race was won by Margaret Duffy, while Peggy McDermott captured the prize for the bunny race. An outdoor treasure hunt closed the afternoon's program. The bushes and hedges blossomed forth with fluffy packages concealing a gift for each child.

Club Women to Hear Talk on Education

And now after many fine lectures by eminent men the Women's Community Club will have on Tuesday, April 16, a noted woman as their next speaker, Mrs. Jessie Dotterer, director of elementary education of Cheltenham township public schools. Mrs. Dotterer will discuss "Education in Its Finer Aspects." The import of her subject will be what a community may expect from a progressive school system. She will tell her audience in her opinion how the schools should be constituted, based on the accepted principles of progressive education, employing some of the features of the Dalton plan.

Mrs. C. Fred Kuebler, Jr., will also entertain with a group of songs. Mrs. Kuebler is well known on the concert platform and her voice is a lovely program in itself. The program is in charge of the committee for education, Mrs. H. G. Vene-mann, chairman. Mrs. William Loughlin will be hostess for the afternoon.

A short review by Miss Clark, teacher of the melody-way class, and demonstration by a few of the class pupils will also be a part of this program.

The comedy "Tommy," to be given by the Dramatic Committee, is coming along finely in rehearsal and will be given at an early date. It is whispered that some fine dramatic talent is being shown by the home town cast.

Wunder Battery Service Moves to Forest Avenue

On Monday the Wunder Battery and Electric Service will open the doors of its fine new quarters at 108 Forest avenue. Mr. Wunder's establishment will occupy the store nearest Haverford avenue in the building which, upon completion, will contain several modern apartments and two stores. Eugene Davis is the owner of the building.

Mr. Wunder's business, which has been located on Essex avenue next to Funk's garage for several years, is devoted primarily to battery work. Electrical work and supplies are likewise featured and as is the Eveready radio.

Within a short time Mr. Wunder says that he will be prepared to offer unheard of conveniences to his customers. "When someone drives in, say a woman," said Mr. Wunder, "to have some battery work done there will be a seat for her in an attractive room and the latest magazines on a table. Such little amenities will be in addition to and not in any way take the place of the prompt and efficient service we have become noted for."

Invited to Hear Admiral

All Republican women of Narberth are invited to a tea at the Hannah Penn House, Seventeenth and Locust streets, Philadelphia, on Tuesday, April 16, at 3 o'clock. Rear Admiral Julian L. Latimer, commandant of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, will speak on the "Naval Policy of the United States." Mrs. Thomas Ritchey will also talk on "Treasures of Our National Emblems."

The Tree

By DR. WALTER STECKBECK

Closely following the flowers of the silver maple are those of the American elm, both rather inconspicuous but very welcome to us since they are the first signs of life in spring in our deciduous trees. The small winged fruits develop rapidly and are shed before the leaves are fully expanded. At this time, barely three weeks after flowering, myriads of the fruits each less than one-half inch long are sailing through the air with every puff of wind. Multitudes of seedlings will appear in a few weeks providing the seeds fall on suitable ground. Fortunately very few of the young plants survive. If one seedling elm in a thousand should reach maturity, there would be in time little besides elms in the whole country.

The American elm (Ulmus Americana) sometimes called white elm is probably the handsomest American tree and well adapted for street planting where the thoroughfares have sufficient width and where the serious insect pest which attack this species are of no serious menace. A famous botanist on viewing a white elm for the first time pronounced it "the most magnificent vegetable of the temperate zone."

The elm tree is tall with limbs usually gradually spreading outwards, forming a wide, spreading head with pendulous branches. Where rather closely planted on both sides of a street, as so frequently seen in New England towns and cities, the effect of the larger trees is that of an arch formed by the growing together of their spreading tops. What a fine sight if Narberth had a few such avenues!

The elm is easily recognized by its spreading top, hanging branches, ovate leaves, which are prominently toothed, and unequal at the base of the leaf. The leaves are alternate and arranged in two rows or ranks on the branches. The stately habit of the elm is well portrayed weekly on the editorial page of OUR TOWN.

Probably the oldest living being in Narberth is the magnificent elm near Narberth and Windsor avenues, the tree which, according to history, gave Narberth its former name of Elm. It is quite likely that this monarch has held forth in the same place for nearly or quite 200 years. Unless crowded too closely by brick walls of towering office buildings in our growing business section this fine tree will continue to survey its changing surroundings for another century—if its owners so decide.

Few other elms of the 20 species are commonly seen as shade trees. The English elm, with its smaller leaves and more compact top is a desirable form. The slippery elm is occasionally planted in gardens. This last species suggests to many of us grown up boys the days when we enjoyed chewing the mucilaginous inner bark of the tree. The dried bark was a splendid contraband article to take to school and chew when teacher was not looking.

Racketing Charge Is Raised By L. M. Police

How "protection" is afforded Main Line homes by unwelcome aides of the Lower Merion police force was disclosed last week. Charles F. Elliot, Philadelphia, a watchman employed by the John B. Taylor Detective Agency, of Philadelphia, was arrested by police here on a warrant sworn out by R. Leo McHale, 407 Kent road, Cynwyd.

Charged with suspicion of felony following a fire that occurred in the McHale garage recently, the watchman was given a hearing before Magistrate Franklin P. Kromer, who discharged him stating that although there seemed ground for suspicion, the evidence was only circumstantial.

Mr. McHale testified the private detective had come running to his front door to tell him there was a fire in his garage. "The watchman," he said, "wanted me to call out the fire department when he could have extinguished the blaze with his foot."

He asserted that the manner in which the watchman had informed him there was a fire in the garage had immediately aroused his suspicion. Testimony was also produced that Elliot held in his possession matches of the same make as those from which the fire is believed to have been started.

Opposes "Racket." Following the hearing Superintendent C. P. Smith declared that scores of residents have signed up

Library Trustees

Honor Mrs. Wood

But to go back to the beginnings of the library. It really started when Mrs. Wood was appointed chairman of the literature department of the Women's Community Club. Among various notes which she made in her note book when planning a program were "Form a reading circle," and "start a library."

The reading circle revealed a group of women who were interested in books as literature. The executive board of the club appropriated $30 for the purpose of starting a library. Mrs. Wood obtained from the book department of the John Wanamaker store in Philadelphia the promise of the customary library 20 per cent. discount on books provided they were bought to establish a bona fide town library. The first $30 purchased 18 books which were delivered to Mrs. Wood's home. These were accessioned and cataloged just as though they were part of an institution already in existence. This caused some amusement in the minds of Mrs. Wood's friends, one of whom noticed that the first of the catalog cards recorded "Adventures and Enthusiasms," by E. V. Lucas. The friend remarked that the title of the first book was a good indication of the nature of the library enterprise at the moment.

When these 18 books were arranged on a window sill of Mrs. Wood's home and Mrs. Horace E. Ruch, a member of the reading circle had been appointed first "distributing librarian," the Narberth Community Library was opened January 31, 1921. A rental fee of 10 cents a week or fraction thereof was adopted.

The dimes accumulated, day by day. When there were enough to buy another book, Mrs. Wood would take the next train to Philadelphia, pick out a book, record it, put it on the shelf and telephone someone to come and get it. The result was, that while officially the library was open on Monday mornings only, in reality it was open every hour of every day of the week, or all the waking hours of the family. One of the gratefully received contributions those early days was a collection of detective stories given by a Narberth resident.

It soon became apparent that the library should be moved to more public quarters. The Y. M. C. A. building possessed a lobby, dark, neglected and unprepossessing, the organization having been disbanded at the time. But on one bright, sunny day Mrs. Wood noticed that on either side of the fireplace there were two bookcases. Permission to use this lobby was obtained and the library moved in on June 17, 1921, and stayed there three years. The response of the public was immediate. The volumes grew in number to 3000 and the circulation increased to 12,000.

Departments were added. On October 14, 1921, the juvenile department was opened with distribution of 25 books to children. These have always been given out free. Early in 1922 a reference department was started. And the same year the "summer privilege" was inaugurated, when all books in the rental collection which had been published before a certain date were distributed free. On January 1, 1923, the policy was established of removing permanently from the rental collection all books published more than two years previously.

There were some drawbacks to the lobby. Books were available to all people passing through to the meeting hall beyond, whether or not there was a librarian in attendance. But books that disappeared usually came back. It became certain that the library was working full time, even though the librarians were not.

The next move was into the gymnasium on May 11, 1925. This was in the same building, but had the advantage of more space and doors that could be locked. It began to look like a real library, even though most of the equipment was second-hand contributions. The following year brought another change, when it was thought that the library should cease its connection with the Women's Club and become a separate organization of both men and women who should be eligible to receive appropriations of public money. As a result the Narberth Community Library Association was organized in May, 1926.

Just before the formal organization the directors of the Narberth school district appropriated $300 to the library. The same year it was offered a permanent home in the new community building erected from the Y. M. C. A. fund to be maintained and supported by the borough treasury. The library moved into its present and permanent home May 1, 1926. Fine new equipment was bought with $2000 contributed by residents of the town.

Then came the appropriation of $2000 for the library from council in the 1929 budget, enabling the library trustees to appoint a professionally trained full-time librarian, and the opening of the library's doors every day, all of which took place so recently, there is no need to recall it further.

The editor is indebted for the material published above to a feature story which appeared in the Springfield Union and Republican of January 27, 1929. Mrs. Wood and her husband, Robert Fellows Wood, are former residents of Springfield, Mass.

Book on Rock Gardens
Recent Gift to Library

All gardeners of previous years, and all those born or revived in this season of blossoming profusion, will wish to read a new book by Louise Beebe Wilder, one of the most enthusiastic of gardeners and also one of the most inspiring writers in her field. "The Pleasures and Problems of a Rock Garden" is the title of the book, which has recently been given to the library by Mrs. C. T. Faries, who is herself a lover of gardens.

The book is the result of the author's actual work in her own garden, and the 200 portraits which are arranged alphabetically at the end of the text book are chiefly of plants from her own place. Rock gardens are not new, by any means, but interest in them is more widespread now than was the case a few years ago. In the introduction by Richardson Wright, attention is called to the fact that it was about the turn of the century that the polite garden world which was accustomed always to hold a decorous vertical pose began to be amused by the activities of certain men and women who insisted on reverting to the simian posture of "all fours." The reason for this attitude was the enthusiasm for rock gardening.

In those early days, as the wits observed, the stones were of greater importance than the plants that grew between them; since then the emphasis has changed and the Alpine or rock plants have come into their own.

Mrs. Wilder gives suggestions on constructing rock gardens, and lists and describes plants according to color that are suitable for cultivation. Recognizing some of the problems of an amateur she includes in her discussion the subjects of putting rock gardens to bed, and planting for late garden effects.

The library contains other books on flower culture and these are displayed now on the counter cases near the entrance of the building.

Orchestra Presents
Its Third Concert

Smith. The pieces were entitled "Pastorale," "Cradle Song" and "Sadness." The charm and delicacy of the music was skillfully brought out.

It is difficult to realize, in listening to this musical body, that Mr. Vogel has built the group in six years from amateur players, most of whom must limit their musical expression to the weekly rehearsals and few concerts of the orchestra. The effect attained in every concert this season has been of professional calibre. The orchestra has suffered little change in personnel, and has maintained an esprit de corps which accounts in large measure for its success.

SPRING STYLE SHOW

OF NEW NASH "400" MODELS
AND DEMONSTRATION WEEK
OF NEW NASH "400" FEATURES
ALL NEXT WEEK

This is Spring Style Show Week in Nash Showrooms and Nash "400" Demonstration Week on the highways. We are showing you the newest models in motor cars and demonstrating to you the newest and finest motor car features.

New spring colors, new finishes, new versions of "400" Style are being displayed.

And cars are waiting to reveal to you the many advantages of owning a Nash "400." You will be shown the powerful smoothness of Twin-Ignition performance—the simplicity, certainly and economy of Nash-Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication—the pleasure of driving the world's easiest steering motor car—and many other equally important "400" improvements.

Every Nash model, for instance, is now fully equipped at the factory with every accessory except a spare tire, at no extra cost.

You are particularly invited to see the new Nash "400" during this Spring Style Show—and to appoint a time for a "400" demonstration.

HAVERFORD STAR SCHOLAR-ATHLETE

H. K. Ensworth Makes Notable Record at Main Line College.

The ideal combination of athlete and scholar is illustrated by Herbert K. Ensworth, Haverford College track captain. Ensworth has six athletic letters, three gained in football and three in track. Scholastically he has been among the first four men in his class during his entire college career.

In track Ensworth has been a brilliant performer for the last three seasons. In dual meets during that period Ensworth has placed in every event he has entered.

At the top of his list of laurels are his fine times for the 100 and 220-yard dash events, 10 and 22 seconds flat, respectively. Last year he placed second in the 220 in the Middle Atlantic States championships and in the recent Meadowbrook games he took second in the 50-yard dash. He was a fast, hard-hitting back on last year's football eleven.

Having entered Haverford with one of the highest averages in the entrance examinations, he has consistently maintained a high scholastic rating, and is now in line for a Phi Beta Kappa key.

Ensworth was recommended by the faculty of Haverford College for a Rhodes scholarship and was placed second in Pennsylvania by the Awarding Committee, as well as recommended for the scholarship-at-large by it.

Ensworth has been a prominent campus leader, having been elected president by his class in his freshman year and recently chosen permanent class secretary. He is also captain of this year's debating team.

His home is in Germantown, where he was graduated from Germantown High School with the highest average in his class.

Although he was unable to make the grade in high school competition, he now guides a track and field combination which has posted double but twice in dual meets in the last four years, and which has placed second in the Middle Atlantic States Athletic Association championships for the same number of seasons.

Golfer, Nine, Makes Flying Hole-in-one

Probably the youngest member of the extensive "hole-in-one" club is Sidney Coltart, 9-year-old son of Bill Coltart, the professional at the Valley Forge Golf Club.

Playing in a threesome at Valley Forge during the last week-end Sidney sank his tee shot on the 180-yard thirteenth hole.

Frank Powell and Albert Baird, of Philadelphia, were Sidney's golfing companions at the time, and "Doc" Bishop, athletic director at the Haverford School and one of the best-known sportsmen along the Main Line, was another witness. Bishop was standing on a bench at the thirteenth tee waiting for the threesome ahead of him to play the hole and he followed the complete flight of young Coltart's ball. He is authority for the fact that the pellet went into the cup "on the fly."

This ace, the first ever made in Valley Forge's history, is being claimed as a world's record by Bill Coltart because of the youth of "his boy." Sidney used a spoon to notch his ace.

Tennis Schedule at Lower Merion

Lower Merion Senior High School tennis schedule, as announced this week, follows:

May 2—Radnor, home.
May 6—Cheltenham, away.
May 9—Upper Darby, home.
May 13—Abington, away.
May 20—Radnor, away.
May 23—Cheltenham, home.
May 27—Upper Darby, away.
June 3—Abington, home.

Each team will consist of six players and each match will consist of four singles and one doubles. The team winning three of the five wins the match. Walter Fricke is the captain.

Inter-room Meet Today

The Inter-room meet of the eighth and ninth grades of the Junior High School will be held this afternoon on the Senior High field. All of the usual high school track events will be held and the winning rooms will have their names engraved on the plaques provided for that purpose. This meet brings out the best runners and ball men in the school and gives the spectators an opportunity to pick out any unusual talent present.

No New Date Fixed

The postponed baseball game with Overbrook High School scheduled for last Friday has been postponed indefinitely. The first available date agreeable to both teams will be used.

Child's Bill of Rights

"The ideal to which we should strive is that there shall be no child in America:

"That has not been born under proper conditions.

"That does not live in hygienic surroundings.

"That ever suffers from under-nourishment.

"That does not have prompt and efficient medical attention and inspection.

"That does not receive primary instruction in the elements of hygiene and good health.

"That has not the complete birth-right of a sound mind in a sound body.

"That has not the encouragement to express in fullest measure the spirit within which is the final endowment of every human being.

"HERBERT HOOVER."

April is the big time for the thrifty coal buyer. The reduced spring prices are now in effect.

It's the part of wisdom to buy coal now. As much a paying investment as money in the savings bank. Because you buy in advance of your needs, you are able to save money. And you have your supply of coal safely tucked away in your bins before the fall and winter coal buying rush begins—before the prices advance again.

Buy your coal now by all means—but don't try to judge coal value by the price alone. You must take into consideration the quality of the coal. And you can't afford to overlook the service the coal dealer gives you. What do you get for our coal dollar?

Where else can you get such coal—such service?

Now is the time to buy your next winter's supply of coal. You save money because prices are down to the low level. But be sure quality and price are both right. And by all means get service.

Why shouldn't you get service when you buy your coal? It's sure, counted in your coal dollar. You pay for it. But how seldom you really get it! Unless you buy from Newton—then you do get it—always.

Newton is not a mere buyer and seller of coal. The Newton organization is geared up to render real service to the public—from the time the coal is selected at the mines until it is actually burned in your heater. Nothing is left undone to enable every Newton customer to burn every ton of Newton Coal most efficiently and most economically.

Think what it means to you to have all these people work for you! How can you be satisfied without such service? Make sure that you get the best coal—Newton Coal—the kind that produces more heat, requires less firing, and makes fewer ashes.

And get all the extras of Newton service that insure best heating results—that give you the most for your coal dollar. It's all yours without a cent of additional cost.

"In this connection, it is proper to report that as a result of agitation of the subject in the columns of the local newspaper, we have received a request for a similar petition from Mr. William Stratton, of Merion avenue. We have provided him with a petition covering that section of Rockland avenue from the railroad bridge on the east and running to Narberth avenue on the west. Also, another citizen has obtained from the superintendent of public works a similar petition for Grove Place. We hope that proper petitions for both of those streets will be received at the May meeting of council and that permanent pavements may be installed on all of them this year, thereby completing all of the original street improvement program, with the exception of Haverford avenue from Essex to Conway, which cannot be attempted until other improvements, in which the Pennsylvania Railroad is involved, have been installed.

"During the past month we have installed 78 feet of eight-inch terra cotta pipe in an extension of the storm sewer in the rear of properties on Wynnedale avenue at a total expense of time, labor and materials of $51.92. The old storm sewer there had become broken and blocked and a condition had developed which required immediate attention.

"Unless prolonged cold weather at the end of this month should prevent, we recommend that the winter schedule of collecting ashes and rubbish weekly be discontinued on April 26 and that the following schedule of summer collections be made effective:

Week of May 6—on regular days.
Week of June 3—on regular days.
Week of July 1—on regular days.
Week of August 5—on regular days.
Week of September 2—on regular days.
Winter collections to be resumed on October 7, 1929.

24-Hour Nursing Service For Section

Beginning this week, the Health Committee of the Community Health and Civic Association will furnish 24-hour delivery service in this section. This step is made possible by an appropriation of $2000 by the Lower Merion Board of Health and the employment of an additional staff nurse. Calls for a nurse for such service between 8.30 A. M. and 5 P. M. will be received at the Health Office, Ardmore 2098. After 5 P. M. and before 8.30 A. M. and on Sundays and holidays, calls will be taken through the Bryn Mawr Hospital, Bryn Mawr 1.

For the present this service will be available only for those patients who are registered during the pre-natal period with the nursing service.

Announcement is also made that Miss Rose Ehrenfeld will take the place of Miss Ruth Cushman in the Health Centre in Ardmore. Miss Cushman resigned some time ago, effective April 5. Miss Ehrenfeld, who will begin her duties next Friday, for the past four years has been assistant director of the American Red Cross work in the Mid-West Area and previously spent ten years in North Carolina in public health work.

The quarterly report of the Health Service shows a total of 5333 visits were made in January, February and March, 1929. This is 1682 more than the visits made in the same months in 1928. Three hundred and thirty-six of these visits were cases of communicable diseases as compared with 76 in 1928. The nurses made 1599 visits to pre-natal cases, mothers, and new born babies.

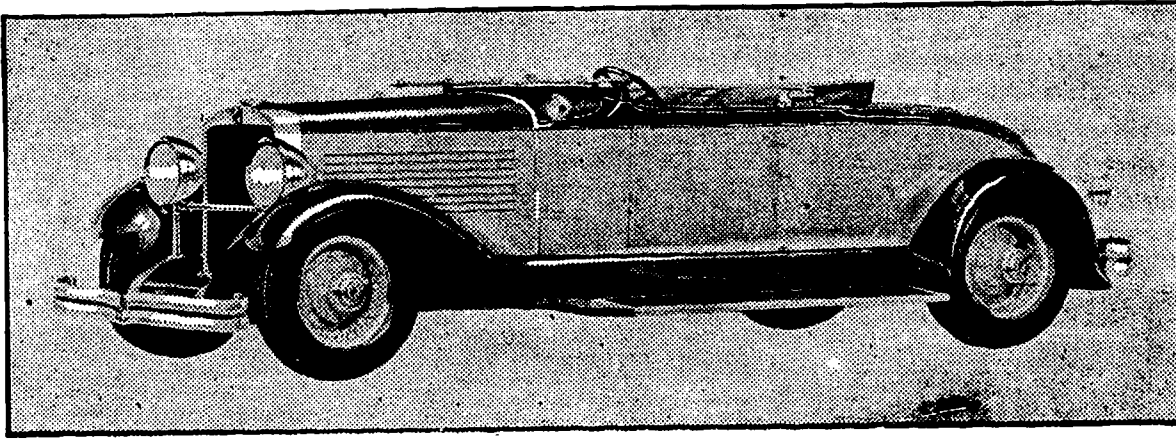

L. M. Girl Swimmers Break 3 League Marks

Lower Merion High girls' swimming team shattered three Delaware County Scholastic Tank League records and handed the Haverford High girls their first defeat in three years all in one afternoon at the Ardmore "Y" pool last Friday. Lower Merion won 40½ to 27½ points.

Hazel Palmer, who established two of the new marks and who also was on the record-breaking relay team, was the outstanding performer of the day. She clipped two seconds of the former record of Zannie Moore. Radnor High, in the 20-yard backstroke, taking the event in 16.3-5 seconds. In the 20-yard freestyle, Miss Palmer easily won in 12.3-5 seconds, one and four-fifths seconds better than the record of 14.2-5 made by Eleanor Boyle, also of Radnor.

The relay team, Ruth Wilbur, Dot Gimber, E. Goldsmith and Hazel Palmer, swam the 80 yards in 1 minute and 1-5 seconds, 3-5 seconds better than the former mark held by Haverford High's team.

Nash Roadster in Spring Style Show

A Reflection of INDEPENDENCE—

*An Explanation of
'Average Daily Balance'

An average daily balance of $100 does not mean that you must have $100 in the bank each day. If, for instance, you deposit $225 on the first day of the month and check it out, by reasonable stages, by the end of the month—your account will average $100 in daily balances.

By building up your checking account to where it will average $100 in daily balances you render it independent, and place it in the position to carry its own way, so that your bank can maintain the efficient and helpful service which is your right to expect.

A substantial checking account at your bank will give you the independence which financial reserve brings.

(STARTING May 1st, 1929, a Carrying Charge of $1.00 will be applied to accounts of less than $100 in average daily balances.)
